Job Reference: DE202606

Job Opening: Sales Executive

Location: Germany

Industry: Industrial Fabrics / Technical Textiles (Dryer Fabric)

Position Overview

Our client is seeking a results-driven and dynamic Sales Representative specializing in dryer fabrics and related papermaking accessories. The ideal candidate will be responsible for developing new client relationships, maintaining existing accounts, providing expert technical consultation, and expanding its market presence across designated international regions.

Core Job Responsibilities

- Independently develop and maintain client relationships, track projects through to completion, and successfully achieve assigned sales targets.
- Provide professional technical guidance, deliver comprehensive product solutions, and recommend optimal products tailored to customer needs and paper machine requirements.
- Collect customer data and project information, thoroughly analyze market trends, and uncover deep customer requirements.
- Fulfil operational tasks, projects, and assignments directed by the team and company leadership.

Educational Background & Work Experience

- Associate degree or above. Pulp and Paper Engineering or similar technical majors preferred.
- 2 years of sales experience preferred. Preference given to candidates with sales experience in dryer fabrics, related papermaking materials, or general paper industry background, as well as those familiar with papermaking production processes.
- In-depth understanding of paper machine dewatering processes. Prior experience in post-sales service for paper machines, dryer fabrics, or felts is highly preferred.

Skills & Competencies

- Must be fluent in English. Proficient in operating computers and standard office productivity software.
- Confident, approachable, and possessing strong interpersonal and communication skills. Able to adapt to frequent business travel.
